The University of Florida College of Dentistry is seeking applications for a clinical track faculty position in the Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery (OMFS) at the Assistant Professor rank. The University of Florida College of Dentistry is one of the leading dental schools in the United States devoted to improving and promoting oral health throughout Florida, the nation and worldwide through excellence in teaching, research, patient care and service.

The faculty members will be appointed at the level of Assistant Professor in the clinical track, and will be responsible for teaching at the advanced education (resident) and pre-doctoral levels, participating in Faculty Practice and research. The position requires a DDS, DMD or equivalent degree, and applicants must be board certified or board eligible in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery. The ideal candidate would have experience in teaching, research and service related to OMFS in an academic setting. Candidates should have clinical expertise in the full scope of OMFS; experience in TMJ surgery is desired. Salary commensurate with credentials and experience.

The University of Florida, a member of the AAU, is the largest and most comprehensive public university in the State of Florida, with large undergraduate, graduate, and postgraduate educational programs. The UF Health Science Center and its six colleges (Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health and Health Professions, Veterinary Medicine) are co-located on the Gainesville campus, with additional teaching, research, and patient care sites across Florida, and internationally. The Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery has a strong record of accomplishments in the basic sciences, clinical practice, includes the Center for Implant Dentistry, and offers a nationally recognized four- and six-year residency training program in OMFS.

The University of Florida is an Equal Opportunity Institution dedicated to building a culturally diverse and inclusive faculty and staff. The selection process will be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Florida’s “Government in the Sunshine” and Public Records Laws. Search committee meetings and interviews will be open to the public, and all applications, resumes, and other documents related to the search will be available for public inspection.

The review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the positions are filled. To apply, please go to https://jobs.ufl.edu and search for requisition number 505875. Applicants should attach a curriculum vitae, a cover letter describing their interest in the position, and a list of three references for consideration.
